Dear Parents,

Our year 5 children are taking part in a huge singing project at the new Storyhouse on 13 March 2018, which should be a really exciting community event, with the biggest children's choir ever performed in Chester.

The project is called "Amasing" and involves several other primary schools, Chester University, a professional composer, a street dance crew- "House Of Dance", a vocal group "Vocal Beats". Chester Zoo are also getting involved, as the project manager (Ms Borman) works with them on their 'saving the songbird' initiative.

The organisers have set up a website www.amasing.org.uk, plus facebook and twitter accounts – each will have lots of information, resources and links to story house. We will be sending photos etc to the project and they will be uploaded onto their website.

We have been allocated a student from Chester University, who will come to school and deliver a one hour singing workshop before the event.

Our children will be performing on Tuesday 13th March 2018 @ 6.30pm. Tickets have now gone on sale at the story house, Chester. We will order the tickets on your behalf, so please let us know by tomorrow how many tickets you require, apparently, they are selling like hotcakes! I believe the cost is £11.50 per ticket.

We will keep you updated with further information as we get it, but for now, please put the date in your diary– your child will need to be there - and order your tickets!

Yours faithfully

Mr Hughes, Head
